STATE-AID ROAD JOB COMPLETED

Immense Saving Of Funds Made By County Doing Work.

Grading, draining and bridge building on the section of the Owensboro and Hartford State-Aid road north of Bada has been completed and reports of complete cost turned in. The County, some time ago attempted to let contracts for the construction of this work but the bids were thought to be entirely too high, ranging from approximately $34,000 to $50,000 and all were rejected and a commission consisting of Messrs. F. M. Hoover, Rowan Holbrook and S. T. Barnett appointed and authorized by the Fiscal Court to have the work done under their direct supervision. The Commission turned the job over to S. T. Barnett, as foreman, or superintendent, who personally supervised, in the manner of securing men, teams, tools and laying of material etc. The section of the road improved was the worst in the County, perhaps, of all the roads much in use. Heavy grades composed of both earth and rock were necessary to comply with the blue-prints made by the State Authorities and some changes were made in the plans, necessitating the removal of at least 3,500 yards of earth in excess of the amount embraced in estimate which the Contractors bid on. A lot of tools were purchased by the Commission, a carload of gravel and sand was left over from the job in addition to the excess of earth removed and in addition to all of those items the commission with the sanction of the authorities did $2,000 worth of work beyond or north of the point covered by the plans and specifications upon which the contractors filled bids, as afore mentioned and with the excess in work done, tools purchased on hands and in good shape, material left over to be used in other work, the total expenditures approximated $24,500 saving, under the lowest bid received, around $10,000.

Presuming that the contractors would have done the work nearly if not as cheap as it was done by the County, it may readily be seen what the profits would have amounted to. Looking at the matter as it now stands, those in authority are to be congratulated for taking the method pursued and the taxpayers are also to be congratulated for the immense sum saved to the County and State Treasuries. And the fact is thoroughly demonstrated that Contractors do not take jobs for their health and that work of this character can be done under County supervision and great sums of money saved to the people.

CHEROKEE STRIP IN U. S. SENATE AGAIN

Washington, Jan. 1.—The "Cherokee Strip" in the United States Senate must be revived again after March 4, in order to provide seats for the heavy Republican majority in the upper House, swept into office by the November election.

When the majority on either side in the Senate exceeds half a dozen members or so, the custom has been to assign the newcomers to desks at the rear and side of the minority section. These seats, in enemy territory, constitute the "Cherokee Strip" and while occupied by members of the majority party, are the least desirable seats in the Senate chamber.

Assignment to the "Cherokee Strip" is one of the methods of disciplining a new member of the Senate.

Senator La Follette, of Wisconsin, was the last Republican to occupy a "strip" in the "Cherokee Strip." He Ashland was an outsider, so far as the G. O. end here organization was concerned, and Burns, and knew it. But he decided that he did leave the "strip" he would move into the very best seat on the near Bada, Republican side—which he did. Who the assignment was not difficult where they have been disposed of, it is probable that the newcomers assigned to the "Strip" will be.

Frank R. Gooding, of Idaho; R. P. East, of Kentucky; O. E. Weller, of Maryland; Tasker L. Oddie, of Nevada; E. F. Ladd, of North Dakota; R.

N. Stanfield, of Oregon; R. H. Cameron, of Arizona, and Peter Norbeck, of South Dakota.

The three members likely to be accommodated on the Republican side, by transfer of seats are:

William B. McKinley, of Illinois; Frank B. Willis, of Ohio, and J. W. Herrald, of Oklahoma, all former members of the House.

$275 SQUARE FOOT PAID FOR PHILADELPHIA LAND

Philadelphia, Jan. 1.—The highest price ever paid for real estate in Philadelphia was reported today in the sale of a three-story building, which brought $27,000 a front foot, or $275 a square foot. The lot, 20x100 feet was bought by the Fidelity Trust Company from the estate of the late P. T. Hallahan, for $550,600.

292 GERMANS IN FRENCH PRISONS

Almost 300 Yet Remain In Custody; These are Serving Terms For Crimes

Paris, Dec. 18.—Altho it is now more than two years since the armistice was signed, there remain 292 German prisoners of war in France. They were soldiers when first interned, but today are considered civilian prisoners, for all are serving terms of imprisonment for various offenses not considered of a military nature. There are also some Turkish, Bulgarian, Hungarian and even Polish prisoners left in France.

Some are serving terms of five years' hard labor for theft, for falsifying signatures, assault, destruction of French property, for refusal to obey superiors.

Those serving time without hard labor are called upon to work for French interests and, apart from good food, receive pay averaging one franc a day. To this are added wine and tobacco allowances for good conduct. None of the prisoners complain of their lot, for most of them are reputed dangerous criminals in their own countries. Nevertheless, they are allowed to correspond with their home countries and to receive mail and packages of food or clothing. As a matter of fact, French sentries are warned to show respect to their captives and are told that they will be punished if even heard to call a prisoner a "Boche."

CENTURY OLD WOMAN

Central City Argus.

Mrs. Palmella Duvall Baize, was born in Ohio county Kentucky, February 8th, 1819, and is now 101 years 10 months and 22 days old. She is active sound of mind and memory and bids fair to add more years to her extreme age. She talks interestingly of early days when the Green River country was a semi-wilderness, remembers when Pincheco was the market town for southeastern part of Ohio county before the locks and dams were built on Green river, when Oliver Cromwell Porter founded the town of Cromwell, giving it a part of his own name. She was married to Abednego Baize in 1844, and settled on Indian Camp creek, where she made her home for many long years, raised ten children, all of whom have passed to the beyond, except two, Joseph Baize, who now lives near Baizetown in Ohio County, and George Baize now living in Rockport, in the employ of the I. C. R. R. Co.

Mrs. Baize talks of affairs in the early days of Ohio County, and of the people with whom she was intimately acquainted, the Porters, Stewarts, Wallaces, Arbuckles, Dukes, Warrens, Daughertys, Albins, Fleeners, Jameses, Figleys, Martins, Rogers, Hudsons and many others of the old pioneers; she was a sister of Capt. Ben Duvall, who served in the civil war with the noted 17th Ky. Regt. and served a term as high sheriff of Ohio county, about the year 1866. She has made her home with her son, George Baize, since the death of her husband. The writer remembers well when a boy, how proud he was to have aunt Palmella speak kindly to him and give him something to eat. Mrs. Baize is a member of the Missionary Baptist Church has lived a faithful Christian life, a faithful wife, a kind and charitable neighbor and a loving mother. May she live yet many happy years in peace and comfort is the prayer of her many friends.

U. S. ENGINEERS SEEK TO SAVE OLD FORTRESS

Efforts Being Made to Preserve Oldest Fortifications in Middle West

Paducah, Ky., Jan. 1.—Working day and night, government engineers are building a concrete wall along portions of the bank of the Ohio River, which threaten to cave in and destroy Fort Massacre, one of the oldest fortifications in the Middle West. News that the fort was threatened with destruction was brought here recently when it was learned that preparations were being made to stop the river cutting the banks.

Fort Massacre, or, as it is better known, Old Fort Massac, was built by the French about the year 1711, according to Collins' History of Kentucky, which quotes the autobiography of Gov. John Reynolds. It is located on the Illinois side of the Ohio River, a few miles below this city.

The fort was a part of the French system of defenses against the Indians and English, according to the history, and also was a missionary station for the French priests.

Was Strong Structure.

"It was only a small fortress until 1756, when it was greatly enlarged and strengthened," says the history. "In 1855 its outside walls were 135 feet square, and at each angle strong bastions were erected. The walls were palisades with earth between wood. There were three or four acres of walks—in exact angles and beautifully graveled with pebbles from the river—made on the north side of the fort, on which soldiers paraded. A large well was sunk within the fort and the whole appeared to have been strong and substantial in its day.

"It was there the Christian (Roman Catholic) missionaries instructed the Southern Indians and it was here also that the French soldiers made a resolute stand against the enemy. In 1809 it was the only white settlement near the mouth of the Wabash and the Mississippi; a few families resided near the fort and were dependent on it and two companies of the United States army were stationed there.

"Soon after its establishment, probably before 1720, a military road was established by the French when they had dominion over the country from Massacre to Kaskaskia. The number of miles were cut in cypher on trees with an iron and painted red and were still visible in 1800. The road makes a great curve to the north to avoid the swamps and rough country on the courses of the Cash river and also to attain the prairie country as soon as possible. Another road also extended to Cape Girardeau."

In the summary of important events in Kentucky history compiled by Collins it is related how on August 6, 1766, Capt. Harry Gordon, chief engineer of the western department of North America, stopped there with his party on a trip down the Ohio River from Ft. Pitt (Pittsburg) to Illinois. It states that the fort is located 120 miles below the mouth of the Wabash River and eleven miles below the mouth of the Cherokee.

MRS. DELBERT BARNARD

Mrs. Delbert Barnard, who with her husband, went to Colorado, some months ago seeking the betterment of her health, succumbed December 31, to a malignant attack of tuberculosis. The remains were brought back to Goshen, her former home, where funeral services were conducted by Rev. T. T. Frazier, and burial took place January 3rd.

Mrs. Barnard was formerly Miss Winnie May Stevens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Stevens, of Goshen. She lacked only three days of being 21 years of age and had been a consistent member of the Goshen M. E. Church for some six years.

ALLOY OF MANGANESE AND ZINC

A composition consisting of about four per cent of manganese to 96 per cent of zinc is said to be an excellent substitute for copper, bronze and brass.

The alloy, it has lately been found, is twice as hard as zinc. It may be stamped and rolled and when warm may be forged.

GERMANY FACES YEAR OF GLOOM

Financial and Economical Ruin Faces Nation; War Clouds Also Loom Large.

By Karl H. Von Wiegand.
Berlin, Germany, Jan. 1.—A dark, gloomy and uncertain portent, generally speaking, is the outlook visioned by Germany as the nation peers into the uncharted and trouble-promising year of 1921.

On the eve of the New Year a veritable drum fire of French and British notes were falling upon Germany's political front calling aloud "disarm further, and these promise developments in the New Year which can not be forecast but which, without exception, serve to intensify the uneasiness of the German people and to create a state of affairs which gives a poor outlook for the coming year. They will prevent the mental consolidation so necessary to the work of reconstruction.

With but few exceptions, the situation in Germany is no better at the beginning of the year than it was at the beginning of the revolution.

Count Von Bernstorff, former ambassador to the United States, in a written statement, declares the one bright and promising ray piercing the black political clouds hanging over Germany is from America, with the establishment of a new government there. He believes President Harding's first official act will be the restoration of peace between the United States and Germany.

Germany's statesmen are seeing war looming up in the early spring between Russia and Poland. Military specialists are convinced Poland will collapse, if not militarily, then politically and economically, and point out that Germany must be prepared fully to reckon with the Red armies at the main German border.

Persons coming from Warsaw paint the political, economical and financial condition of Poland as well-nigh hopeless. They point out that the German mark, which is worth less than a cent and a half in American money, buys ten Polish marks. They also express doubt whether France can much longer carry the burden of keeping up Poland's military machine.

With that prospect in the East, the Germans are both enraged and depressed by the Entente demand for the dissolution of the German "security police." It is pointed out that with the advance of the Red army, the radicals in Germany are prepared to make an important move and not lie inactive as when the Red armies were at the German border the last time.

AMERICAN LEGION ITEMS OF INTEREST

Charging that army overcoats are being solicited from former service men for disabled veterans because the government has failed to clothe them adequately, Miles D. King, a member of the West End Post of the American Legion in New York City, has written a letter of protest to Secretary of War Baker. The writer states that "surplus army clothing is being sold right and left at what is supposed to be sacrifice prices, and I am therefore unable to understand why these convalescent soldiers cannot be furnished with sufficient clothing."

The appeal to former service men to give up their overcoats, according to the letter, was made from the American Red Cross, thru a Legion member at a meeting of the New York post.

In an effort to alleviate the national shortage of employment, American Legion posts in many parts of the country have established employment bureaus for local former service men where industrial establishments and business houses of the community list their "help wanted." These post bureaus are operated free of charge and eligible to any veterans applicant, regardless of Legion membership.

A recent report that the International Molders' Union had advised all its members that if they became affiliated with the American Legion their union cards would be forfeited has been declared a falsehood in a letter from an officer of the union to Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor. The letter states that "we do not wish to mar the wonderful record our members made during the war by prohibiting them from joining such a patriotic body as the American Legion."

By way of showing their gratitude to the newspapers of the state for their loyal support during the year of 1920, the Minnesota Department of the American Legion has sent each newspaper a letter of thanks. Each letter bore the signature of A. H. Vernon, department commander.

Bookkeeping for American Legion posts has been simplified by a complete post accounting set, which has been prepared by a special committee and now is ready for delivery. The Emblem Division of National Headquarters is filling orders for them.

American Legion members in Pine-dale, Wyo., claim that their Phillips-Edwards Post is farthest from a railroad of any post in the United States. The distance from the nearest railway line is said to be 110 miles. There are thirty-five members in the Post, which represents a territory of five hundred square miles.

Patrolman Joe Treglia, an American Legion member of Omaha, Neb., will receive a medal and a cash purse as a result of his bravery in putting out a burning fuse leading to tins of gasoline and kerosene in a restaurant. The whole block probably would have gone up in an explosion if Treglia had not investigated the unlocked door of the store and found the flaming fuse.

SHAKEUP AT FORD PANT, THREE QUIT

Lack of Harmony With Company Policies Cause Given By Officers.

Detroit, Jan. 2.—Important changes in the executive department of the Ford Motor Car Company are being made, it became known tonight. Three executive heads have resigned. They are: C. A. Brownell, advertising manager; F. L. Klingensmith, vice president, and L. H. Turrell, chief auditor. Brownell said the resignations were due to lack of harmony with the business policy of the company.

Other resignations are impending, it was said tonight. Among them, it was said, will be that of William B. Mayo, chief engineer. A conference is scheduled to be held tomorrow. Mayo is expected to hand in his resignation at that time.

Charles Sorensen, general manager of the Ford tractor plant, will become executive vice president, according to Mr. Brownell, succeeding Mr. Klingensmith, and together with E. G. Liebold, Mr. Ford's private secretary, will have full control of the future destinies of the big organization, except for the controlling voice of Mr. Ford.

Mr. Liebold said today he could make no statement other than that he had "been informed" that the resignations of Klingensmith, Brownell, and Turrell had been accepted. No successors have been named to either he said, and declared that all details would be threshed out at the meeting tomorrow.

Turrell said a "combination of circumstances" had developed that made remaining with the company impossible and forced his resignation. Brownell said he was leaving on account of his wife's health. He will accompany her to California, Tuesday, he said.

Klingensmith denied he had resigned, but the denial was regarded as technical. It was said he refused to be discharged by Liebold and Sorensen, and will hold his position until Henry Ford asks his resignation. This is expected after tomorrow's conference.

Among the causes for dissatisfaction was the recent price-cutting of cars, it was said.

COMMON SCHOOL EXAM.

Examinations for Common School Diplomas will be held in Fordsville, Beaver Dam, and Hartford, Friday and Saturday, January 28 and 29.

It is the desire of the County School Authorities to have every boy and girl in the County who may be qualified, take this examination at one of these points.

BALFOUR SCORED FOR TRICKING. S.

Ex-British Official Silent On Treaties While Securing Loan.

Washington, Jan. 1.—William Denman, of San Francisco, first chairman of the Shipping Board, declared today in an open letter to members of Congress that the reason Arthur J. Balfour, former British secretary of state for foreign affairs, failed to disclose to American government officials the existence of the secret treaties between Great Britain and Japan required "no further explanation than his quest for the $4,000,000,000 which the United States loaned Great Britain early in the war.

Mr. Denman said Mr. Balfour arranged for "these moneys" in May, 1917, when he was in this country as head of the British war mission.

"His protestations of deep friendship for the interest of the United States" wrote Mr. Denman, "filled our press and warmed his auditors in the halls of Congress and at the tables where our hospitality was extended to him. While he was making them the ink was scarcely dry on the last of the three notes constituting the so-called secret Shantung treaties which, from a naval standpoint, destroyed the island of Guam, probably our most valuable naval base in the Pacific.

Japan Given Advantage.
"Japan our rival in the Pacific, by agreement with Great Britain, was confirmed in the possession of the Marienne group of islands, which placed an unsurmountable barrier between us and the North Asiatic coast and the Japanese islands. Great Britain's price for this was the British control of the islands of the South Pacific coast, which, in the event of hostilities, to which such diplomacy inevitably tends, isolated Guam from the Philippines.

"It is obvious that Mr. Balfour owed to us the disclosure of the existence of these agreements. Why he did not require no further explanation than his quest for the $4,000,000,000. "It will help liberal England to understand the growing mistrust of America toward her to know that there was active deception in addition to suppression of the facts, at the time the loan was negotiated."

Mr. Denman then charges that at a conference between the Balfour mission and himself and Secretary Lansing and Assistant Secretary Polk, of the State Department, Mr. Balfour stated that "all the agreements between the allies affecting the interests of the United States and general world shipping conditions would be fully disclosed to the American conference," but that he had never "redeemed his promise."

LIBERTY BONDS LEGAL TENDER, WATSON PLAN

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 1.—In a copyrighted statement, to be published in the Atlanta Constitution tomorrow, Thomas E. Watson, United States senator-elect from this state, announced that at the extra session of the Sixty-seventh Congress he will introduce a bill to make Liberty bonds and other government war paper legal tender.

Mr. Watson, according to the announcement, declares that such action would have an electrifying effect upon American business life and that upon enactment of the legislation "all apprehension of a panic would as quickly disappear."

The plan would require the federal reserve and farm loan banks to lend money directly to individuals and the secretary of the treasury to issue the unused greenbacks authorized by a bill signed by President Lincoln. The total of these authorized but unused greenbacks, according to the senator-elect, is $102,000,000.

The announcement also declares for ending the war with Germany by a resolution and favors establishment of prewar trade relations with Russia and with Germany.

All of the students and teachers noted in these columns as visiting the home folks here, during the past two weeks, returned last Sunday and Monday to their respective points of labor.

FRIDAY JANUARY 7

Neither the Editor of the Courier-
Journal, the Times or of this paper
has been summoned to Marion, Ohio,
to shed the light of our great minds
upon the President-elect. If Mr.
Harding wishes to assume the duties
of his office in almost, if not quite total darkness, he can just go on and do so. It's his fault and not ours.

The Senate Monday, overrode the President's veto of what is known as the Farmers' relief bill, by a vote of 53 to 5. The vote was non-partisan, but shows clearly that since Wilson no longer wields a club his hold
has slipped to the point where no
grip is maintained, even upon the Democratic members of the Senate.

Hon. A. T. Hert, of Louisville,
member of the National Republican Committee for Kentucky, is being prominently mentioned for a position
in the new Cabinet to be assembled in Washington after the fourth of March. Kentucky Republicans would be especially delighted and all Democrats who know Mr. Hert would be pleased with his ascendancy to a cabinet position, as he is recognized as a high-class gentleman, a man of fixed
integrity and of real ability.

Friday and Saturday, January 28
and 29 are the dates fixed for examinations for common school diplomas.
Every school boy and girl within the confines of the County, who deem themselves qualified to pass the examination should present themselves
at one of the three points selected,
in which the examinations or tests
are to be made and strive for a grade
entitling them to a certificate of graduation. It is really worth while,
even if you have not a fixed intention
to attend high school next year.
It may develop later that you desire to attend some one of the County High Schools, and, armed with a certificate
of common school graduation, free tuition in high school is assured. If after putting forth an honest effort,
you fall a bit short of securing the diploma, what of it? It would only show that you need to do a bit more
work in the common school branches,
and, barring a slight disappointment
perhaps, those who fail can not be really hurt, because another chance
will be offered and redemption from the failure can be made. In all events every boy and girl may be, in fact are certain to be benefitted by undergoing the examination. It is a step out and forward, it will have a tendency to remove timidity and make one more self reliant. By steps hewn by the climber only, may ascendency to the solid pinnacle above be attained and rightly kept for one's own. Seek to be a climber, you have already made a good start, pass an important point in the upward climb by taking this examination, don't stop until you have secured a good high school education, then go further, if possible, because the brightest goal is at the end of the longest climb.

FISCAL COURT IN SESSION THREE DAYS

The Ohio County Fiscal Court convened here Tuesday in its regular January term, adjourning Thursday.
Judge Mack Cook was present as presiding officer, while W. C. Blankenship performed the clerical work. The following Justices were present: Ed Shown, George W. Rowe, Q. B.
Brown, O. E. Scott, W. C. Daugherty,
W. S. Dean, B. F. Rice and B. C.
Rhoads, County Attorney A. D. Kirk
was also present.

The Court passed upon a large
list of claims and transacted much business necessary to the winding up of affairs of the year just closed. The Court made the tax levy for the year

1921, which is 50 cents on each $100
worth of taxable property within the County, subject to local taxation and also levied a poll tax of $1.50 on each male citizen, subject thereto.

The tax levied was apportioned as follows:

Salary fund12.5%
Road and Bridge fund50.0%
Sinking fund15.0%
General expense fund14.5%
Charity fund8.0%

The Court adjourned to meet February 14, at which term settlement
with the Sheriff for the past year's funds will be made.

OWEN SCHROADER HURT BY GUN'S DISCHARGE

Owen Schroader, 17 year old son of Mr. Calvin Schroader, residing near York's store had a narrow escape from serious injury Tuesday,
when a gun he was carrying was accidentally discharged while crossing a sill or some object in a barn. The load from the gun blew one thumb
off, grazed one side of his face and one shot penetrated the mouth
breaking one tooth.

OLD TOWN NOT TO BE IN TOTAL DARKNESS

The Kentucky Light and Power Company which has been furnishing light and water for Hartford for a number of years, is not to dismantle
and quit business as formerly contemplated and as per notice given through the columns of each of the local papers.

The City Authorities at a meeting held Monday night entered into a contract with the Company for street lighting during the period of four years to come, while the Fiscal Court
on Tuesday also entered into contract with the Company for light and water for the Courthouse and Jail.
Both County and Town agreeing to a substantial advance in the rates.

The question of discontinuing the service by the Company had the populace, generally speaking, considerably
worried, as those who were patrons
of the corporation naturally had a considerable sum invested in light
and water fixtures which would, in most instances, have been practically worthless, to say nothing of the inconveniences resulting from discontinuing the service.

B. D.'S ORANGE AND BLACK QUINTETTE IN HIGH FORM

The holiday season for Beaver Dam Basket Ball Boys was a very successful one. On the evening of the 25th, they met and defeated the fast Hawesville Five, score was 33 to 12. On the 29th our boys met
"Gang 80" from Greenville and defeated them with the score of 41 to 8.
On the 1st the Central City boys were overcome by their orange and black opponents, score being 50 to 11.

The passing and team work of B.
D.'s five proved to be too much for any of the teams mentioned. The
B. D. Line-up was as follows in each game:

H. Render, F.
B. Barnes, F.
P. Barnes, C.
M. Barnes, G.
K. Barnes, G.
Alford and Baker Subs. Rogers of

SALES OF TOBACCO TO BE SUSPENDED

Growers Seek The Closing Of All Loose Leaf Warehouses.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 4.—At a meeting of representative bankers held here tonight assurance was given Burley tobacco growers that the bankers stood ready to render any reasonable aid in the present tobacco sales crisis. The conference was participated in by a number of the city's leading warehousemen.

A definite program will be formulated at a further conference to be held Friday afternoon, it was announced. In the meantime Lexington bankers intend to request Louisville and Cincinnati bankers to help solve the problem and to use their influence in prevailing upon warehousemen in those cities not to market any more Burley tobacco until May 10, to which date the more radical leaders
among the growers would postpone sales. This would have the effect of stabilizing prices, it was said, and placing all of the markets on the same footing when sales are resumed.
If individual growers undertook to sell independently before that date
the proposed general suspension of Burley sales would fail of the effect
intended and complicate the situation
especially in view of the proposed
"cut-out."

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 4.—Farmers
were hauling their tobacco away from warehouses and storing it in barns
and practically every market of importance in the Central-Kentucky tobacco region was closed tonight in protest against low prices offered by buyers for this year's crop. The Lexington market was first closed until tomorrow, while a later announcement set January 11 as the date for reopening. Indications were that other markets would follow the lead of Lexington.

Growers, buyers and others interested in the tobacco crop would not venture a prediction as to what the outcome of the situation would be
but they indicated they were ready for almost anything.

Principal developments of the day
were:

The Lexington loose-leaf market,
the largest in the world, closed an hour after the opening this morning
with the announcement that it would reopen tomorrow.

Buyers Are Threatened.

The Tobacco Warehousemen's Association, thru Ben Bosworth, supervisor of sales, this afternoon announced that the local market would not reopen until Tuesday, January 11,
at the earliest.

Delegations from various important markets in the district visited the Burley Tobacco Growers' Association
office here and announced that other places would follow the lead of the Lexington.

Farmers' mass-meetings in some counties decided to hold the 1920
crop and cut the 1921 crops. Farmers began hauling their tobacco out of the Lexington warehouses, in which
there were about 7,700,000 pounds,
when the sales started yesterday morning. Buyers of tobacco were threatened by irate farmers at Carlisle.

Bankers and warehousemen to meet here Friday to decide on ways
and means of financing growers who do not want to sell.

Mass-meeting of tobacco growers
from all parts of the Burley district
called for Friday, January 7, at Lexington for the purpose of providing ways and means of handling the 1920
crop and to arrange for curtailment
of the 1921 crop.

Many Markets Close.

The Lexington market opened Monday with growers from all parts of the state watching the sales to get a line on prices to be paid. No action was taken toward stopping the sales
pending opening of the other important markets at Mount Sterling, Carlisle, Paris, Danville, Winchester, Maysville and Covington as growers said they hoped that indications at these markets would be for higher prices.

The temper of growers, however,
was none too good this morning and
when prices offered were even lower than yesterday, the Lexington market was closed. Soon afterwards Mount Sterling, Winchester and other markets closed, reports being that cessation of trading at Carlisle and Maysville was due to the threatening attitude of growers toward buyers.

At Paris this afternoon several hundred growers from Bourbon County voted unanimously to hold the 1920 crop and cut out the 1921 crop.
Similar action was taken at Maysville.

Meeting Called For Friday.

Delegations from three counties

came to Lexington tonight and after a conference with growers from Fayette County, issued the following call for a meeting in Lexington next Friday:

"To the Burley tobacco growers,
warehousemen and other parties interested in the tobacco situation in Central Kentucky, and elsewhere:
"You are requested to meet at your county seats on Thursday, Jan. 6th.,
at 1 p. m. for the purpose of selecting delegates to attend a meeting to be held in the city of Lexington, Friday January 7 at 10 a. m., to provide ways and means for the handling of the present crop of tobacco as well as to make arrangements for cutting out of the 1921 crop of tobacco."

The call was signed by Abe Renick,
R. P. Taylor, W. C. Taylor and A.
Howard Hampton, representing Clark
County growers; Judge A. M. Crooks,
Leslie Shroust, S. M. Estill and E. H.
Goodpaster, representing Bath County farmers and A. R. Robertson, H.
W. Lockridge, Anderson C. Bogle and
H. R. Prewitt, of Montgomery County. The Federal Reserve Bank at Cleveland was asked to send a representative to the meeting.

1,500 Hold Protest Meeting.

Paris, Ky., Jan. 4.—The Paris
market opened this morning with a feeling of uncertainty and pessimism
on the part of the growers. After the sale had progressed two hours it was evident that the conditions here were much worse than those at Lexington
and a demand was made that the sales be closed. Expert tobacco men of forty years' experience said the slaughter was the worst in their experience. Better grades of the weed, which last year would have brought $1.25 per pound or more, brought only from 35 to 40 cents. As the sale progressed the feeling of resentment increased until trouble seemed to be unavoidable. Yielding to a general demand which practically amounted to threats, the sale was closed at 11 o'clock. At 1:30 o'clock over 1,500 farmers and growers crowded into the Bourbon County Courthouse, where, after placing J.
T. Collins, Manager of the Bourbon Tobacco Warehouse Company, in the chair, a motion was made calling for the keeping of the present crop and cutting out of this year's crop. This was carried without a dissenting voice. The two large tobacco warehouse companies then announced the closing of their sales floors for an indefinite period.

Warehouses Close.

Mt. Sterling, Ky., Jan. 4.—Montgomery County tobacco growers voted unanimously to cut out the crop
in 1921 and for a longer period if necessary rather than give their tobacco away to the tobacco trust this year. The market started today and after a few rows were sold at the Farmers warehouse, Paul Essex, manager, mounted a basket and called the sales off. All warehouses closed and will stay closed until a change is brought about in the situation. Prices were about 75 per cent lower than one year ago. A big meeting, composed of probably 800 to 1,000 men,
was addressed by Maj. D. J. Burchett and Judge Henry R. Prewitt, and a committee of growers was appointed to act and report back to a meeting
to be held later.

Buyers Cursed at Maysville.

Maysville, Ky., Jan. 4.—Tobacco
growers stopped the tobacco sales at Maysville warehouses this morning
about an hour after the opening sales
the reason given being that "they refuse to give their tobacco away." The prices ran from one-half cent to 20 cents. General disorder prevailed.

Growers from six counties—Mason,
Lewis, Bracken and Fleming, Ky., and Brown and Adams counties, Ohio—
crowded around the buyers cursing
and yelling and pushing buyers back.
The first basket of 115 pounds was purchased by a tobacco company for 10 cents a pound. Tobacco that brought from 25 cents to 35 cents
last year sold for 3 cents and 5 cents
today. A mass-meeting of tobacco growers has been called for 1:30 o'clock today. There are 3,500 to 4,- 000 tobacco growers from surrounding counties in Maysville, and feeling is running high.

Indignation Meeting Held

Carlisle, Ky., Jan. 4.—The Carlisle
tobacco market which opened today,
closed when growers refused to let their tobacco sell at the prices offered. One row of tobacco offered only averaged eight dollars per hundred. Hundreds of growers thronged the streets here all day. This afternoon, one hundred attended a mass-meeting where resolutions were adopted recommending an organization to finance and assist in handling the tobacco situation.

Buyers Ordered Out.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 4.—Refusing
the low prices offered by buyers at the opening of the Frankfort tobacco
market today, the farmers nearly 2,- 000 in number, ordered the buyers
from the tobacco warehouses with

STRAY STREAKS

(By Fluke McFluke.)

We were born, not under an unlucky star, but under a whole flock of them; Frinstance: On Dec. 15 we took a bath, then on New Year's day, honestly thinking that the water was
to be turned off, we took another and now, doggon our hard luck, new contracts have been made and the water
is not to be turned off at all, except at regular or irregular periods, every other day or something like that.

The meeting was presided over by former Representative Boone Hamilton.

Mr. Hamilton advised the growers to sign a contract to limit the acreage
for a period of ten years, so as to prevent overproduction and hold the price up.

Dark Tobacco Price Low.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Jan. 4.—The loose leaf tobacco market opened here today at a heavy decline from the high prices of the last few seasons. Naturally this was a great disappointment to the growers. But there was no undue criticism, neither was there any attempt to coerce the market in any way. The predictions that good tobacco would sell at satisfactory figures, but that low to medium grades would be heavily discounted were fully borne out. Today's offerings were largely of inferior grades, but here and there would be found a truck of attractive tobacco
that provoked spirited bidding every time. The growers for the most part seem disposed to grumble and there is some talk of asking the sales houses to close. Sales were held at only five of the houses, owing to the slowness
with which the sales proceeded and
the inability to reach three houses
before dark. Prices ranged as high as $35 for fine leaf and as low as 50
cents per hundred pounds for trash.
According to grade the range was:
Trash, 50 cents to $2; common lugs,
$2 to $4; good lugs $4 to $6; common leaf $6 to $12; medium leaf $12
to $20; good leaf, $20 to $25; fine
leaf $25 to $35. Sales were scheduled to be held daily except Saturdays
from now on beginning tomorrow
with the houses which did not sell
today.

HUGH S. HERR DIES OF MYSTERY WOUND

Wealthy Daviess Countian Succumbs To Injury From Gun Shot in Leg.

Owensboro, Ky., Jan. 4.—Hugh S. Herr, 47, one of the wealthiest men of Daviess County, died at the city hospital this afternoon as an indirect result of a bullet wound he received at his home west of Owensboro, December 17. Mr. Herr was shot in the right leg just above the knee. He was taken to the city hospital and the fragments of the bullet were removed. The wound healed nicely, and there was no infection, his attending physician stating the shock of the wound and operation brought about a condition that resulted in Mr. Herr's death. He had been delirious for ten days.

On the morning of December 17 Mrs. Herr called headquarters and told the officer in charge to send a physician to her house, that Mr. Herr had been shot. The only explanation of the shooting given by Mrs. Herr was that "it was accidental." The shooting occurred a short time after Mr. Herr had arrived home, he having been in Owensboro until a late hour.

Asked tonight if Mrs. Herr had any further statement to make regarding the wounding of Mr. Herr, her brother, James Holmes, said: "No, that is not for the outside world."

It is thought that the coroner will hold an inquest after the funeral of Mr. Herr. The funeral will take place from his late residence Thursday morning. Mr. Herr was a son of James M. Herr.

He was married to Miss Mary Elanora Holmes, of Owensboro, 23 years ago. Besides his wife, he is survived by his daughter, Miss Marion Herr, who is home for the holidays. Mr. Herr owned between 700 and 800 acres of land in Daviess County and also valuable property near Churchill Downs, Louisville. His estate is valued at $300,000. He was a stockholder in three Owensboro banks. He was a member of the First Baptist Church and a life member of the Elks Lodge.

(Later)

Owensboro, Ky., Jan. 5.—The bullet that indirectly resulted in the death of Hugh S. Herr, wealthy citizen of Daviess County, at the City Hospital Tuesday afternoon, was accidentally fired by his wife at their home three miles west of Owensboro shortly after 1 o'clock on the morning of December 17, it was learned here today.

Fearing that her husband, who was said to have been intoxicated, would carry out his threat immediately to drive her and her father, J. M. Holmes, 96 years years old, a veteran of the Mexican War, and her brother, James Holmes, from the house, Mrs. Herr, rather than witness the act decided to end her life.

Leaving her husband, she went into an adjoining room and obtained a pistol.

In an attempt to cock the pistol to shoot herself, it was discharged and the bullet went thru the window sash. Mr. Herr rushed into the room, grabbed Mrs. Herr and attempted to take the pistol from her. In the scuffle Mrs. Herr was thrown to the floor. With her right arm under her back, she was still holding to the pistol which was cocked. Mr. Herr was kneeling on the floor over her, attempting to get the pistol, when it was accidentally discharged under Mrs. Herr's back. The bullet penetrated Mr. Herr's right leg above the knee.

Mrs. Herr immediately called police headquarters and asked that a physician be sent to her home, that Mr. Herr had been shot accidentally.

Mrs. Herr at the time was wearing a housedress, the back of which bears the powder burns from the pistol.

Mrs. Herr, thinking the wound was trivial, made no statement concerning the details of the affair, shrinking from the notoriety that would be attached to it.

After Mr. Herr's death members of the family realized the seriousness of the affair and agreed that all details should be made public.

Coroner James Gillison will hold an inquest in the next few days. It is understood that Mrs. Herr will be present in person or by her attorney.

MAY QUIZ BAKER

ABOUT SLACKERS

Washington, Jan. 4.—Request that Secretary of War Baker and Attorney General Palmer be called before the House Judiciary Committee "to ascertain the facts surrounding the mysterious official silence which invests the war slacker situation" was made by F. W. Galbraith, national commander of the American Legion, today in a telegram to Representative Volstead, of Minnesota, the committee's chairman.

Mr. Galbraith telegraphed Chairman Volstead that he "hoped" no means would be spared to bring to light the reasons which have actuated the War Department, or whatever branch of the government is responsible in failing to publish the names of known slackers.

SULPHUR SPRINGS.

Mrs. A. G. Murphy, who has been very sick for some time, is slowly improving.

Mrs. Mary F. Weller, with her little son and daughter, left Thursday, for Louisville where they will make their future home. Miss Mary's many friends regret to see them go.

Mrs. Henry Midkiff and family moved Wednesday to a farm near Hartford, belonging to S. O. Keown. Chester Roach moved into the house vacated by Mr. Midkiff.

Mr. J. M. Moore is moving on the farm he purchased recently from Mrs. Mary F. Weller. The neighbors are glad to welcome such good people into their midst.

The oil well near Concord, recently cleaned out and shot, is about ready for business, and the operators seem to have great faith in its being a good paying proposition.

The tobacco growers seem to have a down and out feeling in regard to tobacco prices and from present indications there will not be much of the weed set in this section this season as present prices will not pay for stripping and delivering. It seems that the only way to make it high is to make it scarce, and the growers have the power.

The Louisville Courier-Journal

The Great Paper of the Southland

The Courier-Journal is ably edited; it is sane and dignified in its handling of news; it is fearless, yet fair, in its editorial utterances; and it always will be found the champion of clean government.

The Courier-Journal surpasses all its competitors in equipment for getting the news of the day, because it has not only the Associated Press dispatches but the full wire service of the New York Times. In addition it maintains staff correspondents at Frankfort and at Washington.

No Kentucky Home Is Complete Without It.

By special arrangements we are now able to offer

The Daily Courier-Journal
AND THE
Hartford Republican

Both one year, by mail, for only $5.75

This offer applies to renewals as well as new subscriptions, but only to people living in Kentucky, Tennessee, or Indiana. New subscriptions may, if desired, start at a later date, and renewals will date from expiration of present ones.

If you prefer an evening newspaper, you may substitute The Louisville Times for the Courier-Journal. Send or bring your orders to the office of

THE HARTFORD REPUBLICAN.

FARM DEPARTMENT.

One Ounce of Strychnine Kills a Thousand Rabbits.

A good lively machine gun is harmless when compared to strychnine—at least, when it is used to exterminate rabbits. In Lincoln County, Idaho, the farmers working in co-operation with the Bureau of Biological Survey, United States Department of Agriculture, report that 1 ounce of the poison killed 400 rabbits. Farmers in Gooding County did even better with their poison and average 1,000 rabbits to the ounce. Minidoka County, conducting a poison campaign under the direction of the bureau, killed 40,000 rabbits.

These figures are illustrative of the work that has been done under Government direction in exterminating rabbits in the Western States, where they are so plentiful as to be extremely destructive to orchards and crops. Large-scale campaigns were organized in Oregon, Washington, Nevada and Arizona under the leadership of the Department of Agriculture representatives and along co-operative lines in which the State governments, the State extension services, and the landowners assumed a share of the responsibility. In addition to the poisoning methods, great rabbit drives were conducted, some of which resulted in the killing of as many as 10,000 rabbits.

The representatives of the Bureau of Biological Survey emphasize the fact that, in the West, the rabbit is a serious menace. Rabbits often devastate large fields of grain and destroy valuable orchards and vineyards. There are instances where orchards, representing the work and savings of a lifetime have been destroyed in a single night by jack rabbits.

Make Homes Attractive.

Suitable plantings are necessary to unite the parts of a farmstead into a pleasing, homelike whole. Trees are used for windbreaks, as frames for the buildings or a background for them, and to give shade. Shrubs are needed in abundance to hide partially the foundation lines of buildings, support their corners, give reasons for turns in drives or walks, and to screen unsightly objects. Native trees and shrubs and those known by trial to thrive in the locality are the best to use.

Michigan is the first State to offer a reward for planting nut trees beside highways. In Europe the profit from roadside nut trees assists in maintaining roads. Roadside nut trees abroad are protected from vandalism by public sentiment, and this is true of the nut orchards in the principal centers of production in this country.

Recoveries by the Government, during the last fiscal year, for trespasses on the national forests amounted to $87,082 in damages and $3,225 in fines. These included grazing, timber, fire, game and occupancy.

Keep Connections Tight.

All screws and nuts on gas engines should be kept tight. The engine should be gone over every day or so when it is used, and all connections tightened and all oil and dirt wiped off. Such practice will go far toward preventing operating troubles, since all gas engines vibrate to some extent and this vibration tends to loosen bolts nuts and other parts.

Give Flock a Bath Tub—But Fill it With Dust.

Chickens never wash, as many other birds do, but cleanse themselves by wallowing in soil. Where board or cement floors are used in the chicken house, some means for dusting should be provided during the winter months say poultry specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture. For a flock of 50 to 60 fowls a dust box 3 by 5 feet or 4 by 4 feet will generally be found large enough, and should be placed where it can be reached by sunlight during as much of the day as possible.

Fine, light, dry dust is the best kind with which to fill the box, but sandy loam is good. Road dust is recommended by many, but it is apt to be filthy. Coal or wood ashes may be mixed with the soil if desired.

Three Ways To Utilize Left-Over Pastry Crust.

In the making of pies a small portion of dough, insufficient for another pie, is frequently left over. This may be utilized in various ways. The following are recommended by household experts of the U. S. Department of Agriculture:

Pastry Crisps.

The dough may be simply rolled thin, cut into squares, sprinkled with sugar and cinnamon, and baked until crisp. These do well to serve with sauce or other dessert, and are more economical of time and money than are most cookies or cake.

Roly-Poly.

Roll pastry until about one-fourth inch in thickness, cover with dried currants or with fresh blackberries, raspberries, or blueberries well sweetened, sprinkle with flour, and then roll like a jelly roll. Bake in a moderately hot oven until well done. Serve with liquid sauce.

Cheese Straws.

Roll pastry thin, cover with grated cheese or with a highly seasoned soft cheese; fold into thirds and roll again into a thin, long sheet; cut into narrow strips and bake in a hot oven until delicately browned. These are good to serve with salads.

Not Much Time Required To Keep Farm-Labor Data.

A record kept of farm labor does not require much time, yet it is often the means of saving labor costs. The labor records should show just how much labor and team work is required on each crop and the time in the season when it is used. They should show what proportion of the labor is devoted to work that produces an income and the amount that is consumed by odd jobs of unproductive tasks. This will enable the farmer to determine the number of days of man and horse labor necessary to produce an acre of any crop, or the care of any class of animals for a year. Thus he may be able to rearrange his system of management so that he can get along with less labor and at the same time maintain production.

A year's labor records show also just how much man power and horse power is necessary to run the entire farm at different seasons, and point out accurately just when the rust seasons occur. With such records before him, the farmer knows approximately what his labor requirements will be in advance of the rush season. He is able to increase or decrease the different farm enterprises and fit them together until he has outlined a complete year's work with an even load of labor for the entire season.

Weigh Carefully Results Of Year's Cost Accounts

In making use of the results of a year's cost accounts for the purpose of perfecting the organization of the farm, hasty conclusions should not be drawn. Sometimes a positive decrease in profits may ensue if an enterprise be dropped, because, taken alone, it has failed to pay. Cows, for instance, may not be showing a net profit, but if all the cows were sold there might be no other way of using up the roughage and it would become dead loss. Labor devoted night and morning to milking and feeding cows and charged to them would be entirely lost if the cows were sold and nothing supplied to fill in the time. Thus an added burden for the maintenance of labor would have to be borne by the other enterprises.

The fact that the hogs or the corn crop bring in the most net money during the season is no reason for assuming that all the activities of the farm in the future should be devoted solely to hogs or corn. It may be that the keeping of cows is partly responsible for making the hogs so profitable, or that the growing of wheat, clover, or other crops in rotation with corn makes the later crop much more profitable than it would have been if grown alone.

Similar conditions will be met with on all farms, and, therefore, no sudden changes should be made on the basis of what a single year's accounts may indicate. All angles of the enterprise should be taken into consideration.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Catarrh being greatly influenced by constitutional conditions requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine is taken internally and acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative power of Hall's Catarrh Medicine that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. WOODEN CONTAINERS OF EXPLOSIVES

It is found that boxes in which explosives are packed may themselves become explosive by reason of having absorbed some of the explosive compound. Despite the fact that their contents have been carefully taken out, wooden kegs in which black blasting powder has been packed may blow up with considerable force if recklessly handled. Nitroglycerine is sometimes absorbed by wooden boxes in which dynamite is packed, and the right kind of shock may set it off with disastrous results.

FIND RUINS OF TIBERIUS

While engaged on a government road near Tiberias, Sea of Galilee, Jewish workmen found part of an old wall and columns which are believed to have belonged to Tiberius, the ancient city named in honor of Tiberius Caesar. This city was the scene of a number of important historical happenings, particularly events connected with Bible history. Near by Jesus preached his sermon on the mount. There also was the town which gave Mary Magdalene her name. Plans have been made for a systematic exploration of the ruins under the direction of scientists.

OLDEST OF STATE MOTTOES

That of Maryland Was Adopted in 1648—Enshrined in History of the Commonwealth.

The Maryland suffragists who propose altering the state's motto, "Fatti Maschy Parole Feminae" (to use the old spelling), are proposing to put rough hands to what should be sacred. The offensive translation, "Deeds are masculine, words are feminine," is not the only one possible. The secretary of state could readily be directed to give official approval to "manly deeds and womanly words," which would give women a recognition they enjoy in no other state motto.

But the best reason for jealously guarding Maryland's motto is that it is the oldest the nation can boast—the date of its adoption is placed in 1648—and is enshrined with Maryland history to a remarkable degree. Throw away the Baltimore motto and Maryland might as well turn the portrait of George Calvert, first Lord Baltimore, to the wall.

There are other state mottoes that are open to attack. Alabama's "Here We Rest" suggests an obvious joke. So does Washington's "By and By." Virginia's motto recalls John Wilkes Booth, New York's the rather tawdry declamation by Longfellow which it inspired, and those of several other states—like Kansas' "Ad Astra Per Aspera"—the rhetoric of commencement. While these states cleave to their mottoes Maryland may well be boastful of hers and its associations. —New York Evening Post.

HOT "SHOT" FOR NEIGHBOR

Probably Woman Wished She Had Not Irritated Mr. Dobson While He Was Worried.

Mr. Dobson came home early in the evening, but 17 sheets in the wind. He negotiated the steps to his front door on his hands and knees. Finally, when he reached the top, he fished his keys from his pocket without much difficulty, but the keyhole, of course, could not be found.

After several attempts to locate it, in which he failed miserably, he happened to look over his shoulder, and discovered the woman next door watching him.

"Wash you wan?" he demanded. "I don't want anything," she replied, but didn't go away.

The man made another attempt to find the keyhole, but being again unsuccessful turned in disgust and asked the neighbor if she had borrowed the keyhole.

"Of course not. I don't know anything about your keyhole except that you can't find it," said she.

"Well, you've borrowed everything else we've got, so I thought maybe you borrowed our keyhole," came the reply.

Peter and Paul Were in Rome.

According to the evidence and discoveries of two famous archaeologists of Rome, Professors Grossi Condi and Orazio Marucchi, there no longer remains any doubt that the Apostles Peter and Paul both went to Rome and suffered martyrdom there.

That doubt has been raised several times in controversies between various schools of archaeologists.

"The Apostles Peter and Paul," professor Marucchi said, "did go to Rome. I have found traces of their burial in a catacomb hewn out of the rock on the Appian Way, behind the ancient church of St. Sebastian."

"There are graves in this underground burying place, which of course prove nothing. But there are also writings on the wall, and these writings all invoke the aid of Peter and Paul, described as lying there."

Famous Mine May "Come Back."

The Comstock lode, once known as the richest silver mine in the world, and from which millions of dollars were taken during the height of its fame, is about to come back to its own. For years the lode was almost deserted, and Virginia City, Nev., lived along in a lethargy that included the slow crumbling of its buildings and the rotting of its sidewalks, until what was one of the most colorful, blazing, excitement-gathering towns in the United States, became a monument to dead hopes and a mockery of its former self.

It has been discovered that thousands of tons of low-grade ore now are standing in giant dumps, and yet other thousands of tons resting in the mines themselves, can be made to yield as high as $10 a ton under modern methods of extraction.

Bulrushes Found of Value.

As a result of a German professor's discovery that the roots of the ordinary bullrush contain as much as 80 per cent of cane sugar, special dredges are now being built for the purpose of harvesting them, reports Popular Mechanics Magazine. The roots grow in thick horizontal masses, and in one part of Germany are believed to underlie everywhere a tract of marshy land comprising 500,000 acres. Though sugar is the product chiefly sought, secondary processes yield alcohol and a nutritive cattle food. From the juice there is made, also, a strong beer resembling porter.

Frivolous Personalities.

"I wonder if Mrs. Gadder knows anything about Flume?"

"You'd better not mention the subject to her."

"Why not?"

"She may think you are talking about something that can be made in a chafing dish."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

CORK MAYOR ARRIVES IN U. S. AS STOWAWAY

Brother Of MacSwiney Is Also In Liner's Hold.

Newport News, Va., Jan. 4.—Peter J. MacSwiney, New York, brother of the late Terence MacSwiney, Lord Mayor of Cork, and Daniel O'Callaghan, present Lord Mayor of Cork, arrived in this port tonight as stowaways on the American steamer West Cannon from Cork.

Immediately on arrival of the West Cannon, immigration authorities discovered the two men on board and, disregarding the claims of their identity, had them placed in jail pending investigation. MacSwiney carried a passport, vised by an American Consul and could have made the trip openly, but chose rather to stow-away with Lord Mayor O'Callaghan.

Passport Frees MacSwiney.

On showing his passport, MacSwiney was released, and the Lord Mayor was freed as soon as authorities arrived. The Lord Mayor took up his residence for the time at a hotel, refusing to discuss any details of his visit. According to MacSwiney, however, O'Callaghan is in this country at the invitation of the Committee of One Hundred at Washington investigating the Irish situation. O'Callaghan is under guard furnished by immigration officials.

"The British would not allow the Lord Mayor to visit America, and he stowed away on the steamer," MacSwiney stated. "I could have come back as a passenger, but preferred to make the trip with him as I now prefer to remain at his side while he is being detained."

"I don't wish to be considered discourteous to the press," the Lord Mayor said, when seen in jail, "but I prefer to say nothing until I have had my status defined by the proper authorities."

Daniel O'Callaghan as deputy Lord Mayor of Cork performed the duties of Lord Mayor MacSwiney while the latter was in prison in London. Shortly after MacSwiney's departure to his longer stay late in October O'Callaghan was elected Lord Mayor to succeed him.

Recently the Lord Mayor sent a cablegram to the Irish-Americans of the United States urging them to organize a relief fund for Ireland. He also appealed to the American Red Cross to send a contingent to Cork speedily to aid the sufferers from the Cork fires.

O'Callaghan presided at a special meeting of the City Council on December 13, at which resolutions giving the Cork officials' views with regard to the proposed truce between England and Ireland were adopted. These resolutions concluded by saying:

"We proclaim our unaltered determination to seek or sanction no truce save such international agreement as may be arranged between the Dail Eireann and the English Government."

WEIGHED HUMAN SOUL.

The death of Dr. Duncan MacDougall, at Haverhill, Mass., a short time ago recalls the experiments which he once made for the purpose of ascertaining whether the soul is a ponderable part of a man. By comparing the weight of a man's body just before and immediately after death, determined by delicate weighing apparatus, he found, he declared, that the soul actually has weight—between six and eight ounces. This loss of weight is probably not what we call the soul, however.

SAVAGE BEASTS EXACT HUGE TOLL IN ANIMAL SLAUGHTER

Compared with some individual members of the mountain lion, wolf, and coyote families, Gullivers' hungry giants and giantesses were light and dainty eaters. All these animals are classed as predatory, but a few specimens develop exceptional skill and cunning in killing cattle, sheep and goats. They usually acquire equal skill in avoiding traps, poison baits and rifle fire, and often do thousands of dollars' worth of damage before they are killed.

The Bureau of Biological Survey, United States Department of Agriculture, keeps a staff of expert hunters in the field for the express purpose of ridding Government range lands of these four-footed outlaws, and thus assist in relieving the rancher. A Government hunter killed a mountain lion near Roosevelt, Ariz., that had destroyed 50 calves and 3 colts on a single ranch. One wolf slain by another hunter in New Mexico had killed 23 calves. Another, in Wyoming, slaughtered 30 head of cattle before one of Uncle Sam's hunters shot the criminal. A pair of Wyoming wolves that had learned exceptional cunning and cruelty had been shot by a hunter. The meal tickets were valued at a sum of well-aimed rifle shots by a Government hunter. Two other wolves, which showed gustatory preference for mutton and young horse flesh, in a single month killed 150 sheep and 7 colts, but at the end of the month a hunter collected their pelts.

MT. MITCHELL IS HIGHEST

Mt. Mitchell of the Appalachian system in North Carolina is the highest peak east of the Rocky Mountains in the United States, according to the U. S. geological survey. It stands 6,711 feet above sea level, more than 400 feet higher than Mt. Washington in New Hampshire, which is commonly regarded as the highest peak in the eastern part of the country. As a matter of fact numerous peaks in the Appalachian system other than Mt. Mitchell each surpass Mt. Washington by several hundred feet.

REPORT 2,325,000

ARE OUT OF WORK

Washington, Jan. 5.—A total of 2,325,000 workers are out of employment in the country, according to a survey of the industrial situation made by Clint C. Houston for the current issue of Labor, official organ of the Plumb Plan League. Mr. Houston asserts that his inquiry disclosed the greatest industrial slump since the money panic of 1907.

The larger groups of unemployed by industries given by the survey were:

Building trades, 300,000; automobiles, 250,000; textiles, 225,000; clothing, 150,000; railroads, 200,000; steel and iron, 150,000; shipping, 125,000; food products, 100,000; amusements, 75,000; metal mining, 50,000; ship building, 50,000; rubber, 50,000; shoes and leather, 50,000; printing, 50,000; casual labor, 5,000.

Many Idle in Bay State.

Boston, Jan. 5.—Conditions of unemployment, unequalled since 1914 were reported today by the public employment office of the State Department of Labor and Industries. Applicants for jobs were more numerous in December than in any corresponding month in the past six years.

Requests for help from employers fell off 52 per cent from the previous December and 9 per cent from November. Positions filled were 48 per cent less than a year ago.

By oversight the date line on the first page of the Republican was not changed last week, making the issue of the 31st, appear as of the 24th.

The Best Cough Medicine.

When a druggist finds that his customers all speak well of a certain preparation, he forms a good opinion of it and when in need of such a medicine is almost certain to use it himself and in his family. This is why so many druggists use and recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. J. B. Jones, a well known druggist of Cumberland, Ky., says, "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in my family for the past seven years, and have found it to be the best cough medicine I have ever known."

Electric Hatching of Chicks.

A third of a million chickens a season is the proposed capacity which a customer of the Electric Power company of Portland, Ore., intends to attain in his electrically operated chicken farm known as "Henacres." His output this season will be in the neighborhood of 100,000 chickens, as compared with 45,000 for last year. This farm started with one small electric incubator in 1915 and now is equipped to operate on a large scale, having a single incubator with a capacity of 20,000 eggs. The total connected load for this plant consists of 33.5 kilowatts of heating and 3 kilowatts of lighting. For emergency service, continues the Electrical Review, a 20-kilowatt direct current generator is installed at the farm and is so arranged that it may be driven from the owner's truck.

Magic Carpet Up to Date.

A plan for seeing strange sights comes from France, in the announcement of the Compagnie Latécoere. This aerial line will take you from Toulouse, at 8:30 a. m., over the Pyrenees to Barcelona, Spain, by lunch time. Next day you lunch at Malaga, then fly across the Mediterranean to Tangiers. Then you sail above the Atlas mountains to far-away Rabat, a green oasis of the Sahara, or even to Fez, where it is said the company has opened the grand vizier's palace as a hotel. These are indeed the days of magic carpet and the seven-league boots to those who fear not adventure in the air!—The Outlook.

EDMUND'S CUBBIE DE CUBIS

trans Are of Female Sex.

French physicians see in the new epidemic of girls' babies and perils of war the cause of the epidemic of girls' babies.

They base their conclusion on the remarkable fact that, while one per cent of the children recently born to men who served under fire are girls, 60 per cent of the babies of war profiteers, slackers and men physically unfit for combatant service have been boys.

Sociologists looking into the future predict that if the present disproportional feminine birthrate continues over half of the girls born in France in 1910 and 1920 will be doomed to spinsterhood. The proportion of young and middle-aged married men in France who saw no service on the front is so small that the boy babies born in their families are outnumbered more than two to one by the infant daughters of the war veterans.

While at a loss to explain the workings of the mysterious influence predetermining the sex of the children born to ex-soldiers, French physicians agree that the relaxation of men's nerves, suddenly relieved from the high tension of constant perils and hardships, is at the bottom of the puzzling question.

So long as the war continued and men remained keyed to a high nervous pitch their children were more often boys than girls. Sixty-five per cent of soldiers' babies born during the war were boys. Now that the hectic days of shot and shell are over the pendulum of gravity has swung to the other extreme, and the pages of France's birth registers are filled largely with names of new-born girl babies.—Amaroc News.

HELP TO FILL FAMILY PURSE

In City of Johnstown, N. Y., Three-quarters of the Wives Are in Gainful Occupations.

In a survey of family incomes in nearly one hundred cities of the United States, the department of labor found that in Johnstown, N. Y., three-quarters of the wives earn money.

The Labor Review explains that this remarkable condition prevails in Johnstown because glove-making is the principal industry there and furnishes work which women can do at home. This appeals to them, because they are able to earn good wages without leaving their household.

In almost one-sixth of the New York city homes visited women contributed earnings toward the support of the home. In Boston, one wife out of ten works; in Buffalo, one in twenty-eight; in Cleveland and Cincinnati one in seven, and in Pittsburgh only one in fifty. It is interesting to note that investigators found that a surprisingly large percentage of town dwellers derive some income from gardens and poultry. Ninety-three per cent of those visited in Cleveland had a garden or chickens.

Fresh Eggs.

The pert proprietor of a grocery in East Twenty-fifth street, is nothing if not good at repartee.

The other day, rather early in the forenoon, one of the good wives in the neighborhood stepped into the store and inquired:

"Any real fresh eggs?" (Great emphasis on the "real fresh.")

"Oh, yes, ma'am," he replied. "Some just laid this morning."

A day or two later, somewhat earlier in the forenoon than before, the good wife again dropped into the store and inquired:

"Any more of those real fresh eggs?"

Whereupon the grocer cried to his clerk:

"Run to the back room, boy, and see if this morning's eggs are cool enough yet to sell."—Indianapolis News.

Famous London Tree Gone.

A famous old mulberry tree in north London, England, under which 144 years ago it is said the American Declaration of Independence was first read in that country, has fallen under the weight of its age. American boy scouts attending the international scout conference in London visited the tree only a few days before it crashed and its history was told to 300 of them, who had their photographs taken beneath its branches. The tree stood on one of the lawns of the Mill-may conference hall. Many religious leaders have addressed meetings under its ample shade. Hundreds of requests for chips from the historical tree are being received.

No Great Harm Done.

Juanita, knowing that her playmate Jack wanted a kitten, picked one up one day when it started to follow her and, taking it over to Jack, sold it to him for five pennies.

"Juanita," said her mother, on finding out what she had done, "don't you know you have no right to sell or even give away a kitty that isn't your own?"

"Well," said the young business woman, "I guess it can go home when it gets ready, can't it?"

Immersion Heater.

An exceedingly practical contrivance for a mother is an electrical immersion heater, cylinder shaped. This will heat water or milk for the baby or invalid in a moment at any time, day or night. This cylinder is simply plunged into the liquid and the plug attached. It takes only a moment to make the liquid boiling hot.

ABSENT MINDED WOMAN FORGOT KILLING MAN

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 4.—A woman giving the name of Lillian McGill, 29 years of age, today called at police headquarters and told a story of killing a man Sunday night, placing the body under the bed and forgetting about it until today, when she started to sweep her room.

Patrolmen visited the room, in a small hotel, and found the unclothed body of a man about 25 years old.

In a written statement, according to the police, the woman admitted killing the man. She said she only knew him as "Frank" and that he told her he was employed in a saloon. They quarreled, she said, and he struck her, whereupon she procured a revolver from a dresser drawer and shot him three times in the head.

She said she had been in a dazed condition for the past two days and insisted that she forgot the tragedy entirely until today.

THE RIGHT WAY TO SLEEP

When one sleeps normally his whole body relaxes his breathing becomes less rapid and his pulse slows down. That gives all the organs and tissues just the chance they need to recuperate and store up new energy for the next day. To aid this beneficial process one should stretch out on his bed—preferably a firm mattress, minus pillows. Then relax—let the bed hold you up; don't try to hold yourself or even think of it—banish worry from your mind. If one awakens from eight hours of sleep, unrefreshed, dull and tired it is a safe bet that he failed to open his windows, that he ate too heartily before retiring or that his general health needs attention.

"WONDERFUL" SAYS OHIO WOMAN

Tanlac Did Miss Siegworth So Much Good She Now Sends It To Relatives in England.

"It is just wonderful how quickly Tanlac works in building up one all run down and suffering as I was," said Miss Anna Siegworth, R. F. D. No. 32, Barberton, Ohio.

"Nervous indigestion had almost made a wreck of me before I really knew it, and I was in a bad condition when I began taking Tanlac. Most of the troubles that go with a bad stomach attacked me and made me miserable. I had but little desire anytime for food, and frequently would turn so sick at the table I'd have to leave it.

"What little I ate caused trouble in my stomach and hurt me all over. Sometimes I felt like I was loaded down with lead, and had such bad smothering spells I'd have to gasp for breath. I tried lots of medicines and just kept on going from bad to worse.

"Finally mother prevailed on me to take Tanlac, and then very soon all my troubles were over. It proved to be the very best medicine I needed, and helped me right from the start. I've finished my fifth bottle now, have gained back eleven pounds of my lost weight, and feel even better than when I was sixteen.

"Tanalac is a grand medicine and I'm glad to tell others what it has done for me. I've just bought two bottles to send to relatives in England."

Tanalac is sold in Hartford by Dr. L. B. Bean; in Beaver Dam by R. T. Taylor, Jr.; and in McHenry by S. J. Tichenor.—Advertisement.

The Best Cough Medicine.

GERMAN TRAIN SERVICE GOOD

Munich, Dec. 7.—Traveling conditions within Germany are more nearly normal than in most other parts of Europe. Trains are frequent and generally on time when not compelled to wait for connections. There are fewer trains deluxe than formerly. Many lines do not operate first-class sleeping cars. But most important trains carry sleepers with second-class accommodations, that is two persons in each compartment. Few trains have dining cars, although most sleeping car conductors provide coffee and tea for passengers and sandwiches, cakes and fruits can be had from vendors at nearly all important stations.

Trains Are Clean.

Cars and stations are clean and fairly well heated. The trainmen are courteous to foreigners and talk French and English with apparent relish. This is probably due to the fact that foreigners are more liberal in their fees and German railwaymen make such small salaries that they are eager to augment them.

Travel to and from East Prussia is more troublesome than in any other part of the country. Most trains are delayed at least two hours by Polish officials at the Danzig corridor and frequently the delay is much longer. The Poles require Polish visas for all passengers crossing the corridor and the fee for an American is $10 regardless of whether he desires to stop in the strip under Polish control.

In the Rhineland the train service is especially good and all hotels and persons are extending a welcome to foreigners. For a time some hotels in Germany charged higher rates to foreigners from countries where the exchange was better than in Germany especially to Americans. But this practice has been abandoned by all important hotels. Shopkeepers occasionally try to charge Americans and Englishmen more than the marked price on their goods, but the practice has been resented so strongly that few important concerns continue it.

The attitude of the German public toward English-speaking travelers is almost universally courteous. Occasionally Germans will leave a compartment where English is spoken, but the great majority of Germans seem to enjoy an opportunity to practice English and will frankly say so.

To The Dyspeptic.

Would you not like to feel that your stomach troubles are over, that you can eat any kind of food that you crave? Consider then the fact that Chamberlain's Tablets have cured others—why not you. There are many who have been restored to health by taking these tablets and can now eat any kind of food that they crave.

KEEP SWORDS SHARP ADVICE TO GERMANS

Berlin, Jan. 1.—In his New Year's message to the army, Major General von Seeht, the German commander-in-chief, refers to the necessity of the soldiers devoting themselves wholly to their calling.

"We will keep our sword sharp and our shield untarnished," says the message. "Inspired by such a true conception of honor and of patriotism and by this feeling of responsibility, the new army will be able to rival the old in efficiency. As an active, living member of the whole body of the nation it will show itself worthy and will gain and keep the esteem and affection of all. Even after the abolition of general conscription the army must and will thus remain a real national army."

PEPTO-MANGAN WILL HELP FIGHT COLDS

Make Up Your Mind to Keep Free From Colds. Get Your Blood in Good Condition

START TAKING PEPTO-MANGAN

Now Is The Time To Build Up. You Will Be Strong This Winter.

Every house has a supply of fuel for winter. People know cold weather is coming. They get ready for it. How many people get their own bodies ready for winter? Most of us go around all summer in the intense heat burning up energy, working hard all day and sometimes lying awake nights sleepless in the heat.

Winter comes along. It catches many people totally unprepared physically. Few of us take stock of our health. Whether we will be well, healthy and strong, we often leave too much to chance.

But not everybody. Nowadays people are learning. They know this matter of enjoying good health is a thing they can help control. If you live right, eat right, get plenty of sleep, breathe fresh air and keep your blood in good condition, you will be all right.

It is so simple. If you feel a little off in health—perhaps worn out and pale—don't take chances. There is no need of it. Buy some Pepto-Mangan of your druggist. Begin taking it today. You can get it in liquid or tablet form. Tell your druggist which you prefer. But to be certain that you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan; ask for it by the full name—"Gude's Pepto-Mangan." Look for the name "Gude's" on the package.—Advertisement.

Lame back may come from overwork, cold settled in the muscles of the back, or from disease. In the two former cases the right remedy is BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT. It should be rubbed in thoroughly over the affected part, the relief will be prompt and satisfactory. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by Ohio County Drug Co.

DENTAL NOTICE.

Now is the time to have your Dental work attended to. Winter is coming with rain and snow which makes old teeth ache and abscess. Abscessed Teeth or "Gum Boils" are dangerous. You are continually swallowing this deadly poisoned pus. Each mouthful of food carries this infection into the stomach. It lowers vitality which invites cancer of the mouth, throat and stomach, Diphtheria, Tuberculosis, Pneumonia, Influenza, Typhoid, Brights Disease, rheumatism; Anemia and even death frequently results from continually swallowing pus.

A mouth containing decayed teeth is a poisonous laboratory, which sends a host of bacteria into the elementary tract. They multiply rapidly thus gain access to the lymphatic system and are carried to the distant organs. Soft spongy and bleeding gums give warning of approaching abscesses. Lady Attendant.

ABORIGINES TO BE KNOWN BY NEW NAME

"Amerind" Suggested For Confusing Name Of Indian For Original Americans.

Louisville Herald.

BY HARRY WARD

Washington, Jan. 1.—Amerind. That is the new name that has been suggested as the official designation of the original inhabitants of this country, the word being composed of the first syllables of "American Indian." The word was first suggested in 1889 by an American lexicographer.

So Lat Downee, a Mohawk of the St. Regis reservation in New York, and Carrie F. Meigs-Adams (Ose Lin Gua), a Cherokee, whose native name means "Always Smiling," are sponsors for the movement to give a new name to an old race.

So Lat Downee, appreciating the error Christopher Columbus made in applying the title under which the race is now known, is making an effort to accomplish the adoption of this name. "Amerind" is grammatically adaptable to the scientific argument of the subject pertaining to most "Amerindian" or pre-Amerindian. He states that a bill will soon be introduced in Congress for the adoption of the new name.

The Mohawk has just returned to Washington after a trip to the various reservations, obtaining his brethren's views on the subject, and was impressed with the great need of its immediate official adoption. He will petition the President of the United States to concur in the proposed legislation.

"It was never more noticeable than during the late war the absolute need of this government to correct this mistake," said So Lat Downee. "While the 'Amerind' members of the A. E. F. were in England the press and public, in order to give expression to their admiration of the fighting qualities of the 'Amerinds,' were forced to use 'Red Indian' for want of a better or proper name to distinguish them from the Hindu, or East Indian, tho they were in no way similar."

So Lat Downee will send his message thru the wampum and Cherokee and Mohawk printed language. He has already sent his wampum message thru the runners of the wampum keepers to the six nations and to Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, who, he claims is one of the "Amerinds."

No Great Act Of Heroism Required

If some great act of heroism was necessary to protect a child from croup, no mother would hesitate to protect her offspring, but when it is only necessary to keep at hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and give it as soon as the first indication of croup appears, there are many who neglect it. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is within the reach of all and is prompt and effectual.

HARVEST ICE—SAVE MILK

Much milk from the farms in the summer is found unfit for butter, unfit for cheese-making, and unfit for use in general; and it is returned to the farm, to the farmers' loss. When the milk becomes warm the bacteria multiply rapidly and the milk is soon bad.

The only way to save it is by the liberal use of ice. And this is 'grown' on the farm every year in most of the country, without cultivation, the only work required being to harvest. Besides, harvesting time comes in the slack season when the labor would interfere very little with other work.

The only tools needed for an average farm would be a couple of saws two pairs of tongs and ice-hooks, a sharp iron bar and a straight board for marking. Select a pond or stream free from dirt, and when the ice is sufficient, mark it off in even squares. It is best to first saw a lane to the landing and loading place, forcing some of the first ice under the rest. The blocks should be made as nearly equal as possible for the purpose of packing solidly.

The ice may be packed in a pit, a cellar or any convenient empty shed, care being taken to insulate it with sawdust or shavings on the bottom, top and all sides. Thus packed the ice may be counted on to lose half its bulk by melting, and enough should be put up to take care of this loss. A better procedure is to build an ice-house, and plans for such a building can be obtained upon request from the department of agriculture, Washington, D. C., which, in order to encourage activity along this line, has prepared a bulletin entitled, 'Harvesting and storing of Ice on the Farm."

Cost of ice is small, and the pleasure, convenience and saving to be derived from its possession in the summer are great. Besides cold drinking water it makes possible ice cream, iced tea and coffee, iced fruits and vegetables.

Don't Forget It.

Bear in mind that Chamberlain's Tablets not only move the bowels but improve the appetite and strengthen the digestion. They contain no poison no other digestive ferment but strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. m

Fordson

For thirty-five years Henry Ford, a farmer's boy, has been working on the problem of a successful tractor for the farm; and for the past fourteen years has devoted much time and a vast amount of money to the development of the present Fordson Tractor. Today that Tractor is in use on nearly 200,000 farms and if you have any doubt as to the satisfaction it gives to those who are using it, call in and get the booklet just issued by the Ford Motor Company, and called "The Fordson at Work" and read the testimony which is there given by the multitude of owners of Fordson Tractors. No evidence can be more conclusive than that of the man who actually knows by personal experience and this is the line of testimony carried in this little booklet. There is no cost for this booklet. If you cannot call for it, write, drop us a postal, and we will mail it to you without charge. It is so valuable you ought to have it because it is the open door through which the farmer will pass from the hard working drudge to the comparative comfort of the manufacturer. The Fordson makes it possible for the farmer to plan and direct, while the machine will do the work. It presents the widest latitude for the farmer to exercise his brain power and plan how he can get the most from the soil, knowing that the Tractor will do the hard work, do it better, do it quicker, and therefore do it more profitably. This means not alone in the cultivation of the soil, in the harvesting of the crops, but in a hundred and one different demands that are made for labor, cutting of ensilage and the filling of the silo; cutting of wood; operation of the washing machine; in the lighting of the house with electricity; supplying the house with running water; bringing to the farmer's wife and daughters the conveniences of the city, relieving them of much of the hard, unpleasant part of housework.

BEAVER DAM AUTO COMPANY

BEAVER DAM, KENTUCKY

Illinois Central Reviews Transportation Conditions of 1920

The railways of the United States have just emerged from a year of unprecedented difficulties. With a transportation plant unequal to the demands placed upon it, they made a record of which railway men are justly proud, and in which forward-looking citizens generally may well feel a pride.

Commercial requirements were the greatest in history. Because of a strike at the coal mines in November and December, 1919, at the beginning of 1920 the country was 45,000,000 tons short of its normal supply of coal. Other commodities in great quantities also awaited shipment. A flood of traffic was turned upon the railways.

The railways had suffered from the war. New equipment had not been purchased in sufficient quantities. Old equipment had not been adequately maintained. Cars had been scattered broadcast over the country. The building of yards and sidings and new mileage had been interrupted. Adequate rates had not been assured. Wages, material costs and taxes had mounted to new levels. A switchmen's strike, tying up terminal freight movement, occurred in April and made its lingering effects felt throughout the early summer.

Facing the great demands for transportation, with many obstacles against them, the railways accomplished a task that seems almost miraculous. The danger of a coal famine was averted. Necessary traffic was moved. A steadily increasing record of efficiency was built up, week by week and month by month, exceeding all previous records of railway history. The peak of the car shortage was passed early in September. Late in November a car surplus actually existed. The supply of transportation now exceeds the demand for the first time in five years.

Many predict a business revival early in 1921, an optimism that seems altogether justified. If the predicted business revival materializes, it will make a heavy demand upon the railways. We believe the railways will be able to move a larger business than they moved during the record-breaking past year. New equipment will be in service and old equipment will be in better condition. Railway workers are developing the old spirit of loyalty and efficiency, conceived upon a new foundation of public service. More adequate rates have been granted. The public is taking a more intelligent interest in railway affairs. Lessons in co-operation have been learned.

It is well, however, for those who will make heavy demands upon traffic during the year to anticipate those demands as early as possible, now that the railways are in a position to handle all traffic offered them. Material which can be transported now in anticipation of later demands should be transported, in order to distribute the traffic burden more evenly.

We of the Illinois Central System are proud to have shared in the 1920 record of the railways of the country. Our best efforts will now be put forth in helping to make the record of the railways for 1921 even more creditable than was the record of 1920.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

C. H. MARKHAM,

President, Illinois Central Railroad Company.
